ISN'T IT QUEER?

"That a man who thinks he is a business man—
Will get up in the morning
From an advertised mattress,
Shave with an advertised razor,
And put on advertised underwear.
And advertised shoes, shirt, collar and tie and shoes
Sent himself at the breakfast table and
Eat advertised breakfast food—
Drink advertised coffee, or advertised tea,
Put on an advertised hat,
Light an advertised cigar,
Ride to business in an advertised motor car,
And then turn down advertising
On the ground that advertising doesn't pay."

REID - PATTINSON

A marriage of interest took place at Coleman last week end, when Miss Jean Pattinson, only daughter of Mayor and Mrs. George Pattinson, was united in wedlock to Mr. Harold Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reid, also of Coleman.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Larke, of Blairmore. Only immediate friends of the bride and groom attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid have taken up residence in Coleman.

MR. MANNING'S WITHDRAWAL

There will be widespread regret throughout the province at the breakdown in Hon. E. C. Manning's health, which has necessitated his temporary withdrawal from his cabinet portfolio. Mr. Manning is only 28, and is the youngest cabinet minister in the British Empire. As Premier Aberhart's right-hand man during the campaign and since his assumption of office, Mr. Manning's work has been exceptionally heavy and the increasing work of the Department of Trade and Industry has finally made it impossible for him to continue.

Mr. Manning, whose physique is by no means strong, came straight from the farm to the Prophetic Bible Institute, and from the Institute direct to a high cabinet post. In his responsible position he has worked night and day, but the multiplicity of the problems he has had to handle, with his comparatively limited experience might well have broken down a much stronger man.

The toll taken by public life is growing heavier, and the key men of governments throughout the world are breaking down regularly. Today there is only one living ex-President of the United States, Herbert Hoover. The recent breakdowns of Stanley Baldwin and Anthony Eden may have serious consequences, but the lesson is there. In Canada a few months ago we lost Hon. E. N. Rhodes, a former Minister of Finance, and so it goes. Not many men have the physical and mental strength to work at the pressure demanded, and the people must ease this pressure if they would save their leaders.—Ex.

BLAIRMORE UNITED CHURCH ORCHESTRA'S ADJUDICATION

Following is the complete adjudication given the Blairmore United Church Junior Orchestra at the recent festival by Mr. Vernon Barford: Class 32, entry 2—Own choice, A. Orpheus, "Spirit Dance": A very nice, quiet opening. The intonation is good until the 'cello has that little solo passage, which is not very easy; but it was fine when it was repeated on second appearance. The phrasing was very good, and the orchestra plays very well together, with a good deal of sensitivity. It might have been a little softer in the middle, but the finish was splendid and very effective.

Own choice, B. March, "Connecticut": A good march played with excellent rhythm. Thought we might have had a little more color in building up the 8-bar section of the first theme. This march would have been a happy choice if a little brass could have been introduced to help the accompaniment, which was good, but the entry is a pure string band. The intonation was excellent and the bowing free, and where necessary vigorous. With such good players and conducting, we might have had something better musically. Let us hope so next time.

Mr. Ed. D. Boyle, L.I.S.M., is conductor of the orchestra.

DEPLORE LACK OF CO-OPERATION WITH ALBERTA MUNICIPALITIES

Non-appearance of certain provincial government ministers scheduled to address delegates to the Alberta Association of Municipalities convention at Calgary roused indignation, which was given expression in a resolution passed Friday afternoon, as follows:

"Whereas, the public of this province has from time to time been severely criticized by our provincial government for lack of co-operation, therefore be it resolved that our government be requested to more closely co-operate with this association by having their ministers or deputies present at our convention to discuss problems relative to their departments."

Premier Aberhart was to have appeared Thursday afternoon with Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, and Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, scheduled to be present Friday morning, according to the convention program.

Another resolution recommended amendment to the Hospitals Act. It asked that all patients receiving any hospital care, emergency or otherwise, outside of their own municipal districts should have an order from the resident doctor or the municipal council authorizing such treatment. Otherwise the municipality should not be held responsible for the costs incurred.

A resolution was lost which urged that the immigration laws be so amended that no immigrant over 50 years of age be allowed into Canada without bond; that the period of possible deportation be extended from five to ten years; that no one on relief be allowed to secure naturalization papers; that naturalization be not extended to foreigners resident in Canada more than 10 years without taking out papers; that indigents

ALLEGED DRIVER OF MYSTERY CAR ARRESTED

The driver of a car alleged to have hit and fatally injured Henry De Veer, a Mennonite, aged 21, near Coaldale on Wednesday evening, was arrested later in Blairmore that night and was escorted to Lethbridge Thursday morning by Constables T. Mudiman and W. Bailey, of the Lethbridge detachment of the R.C.M.P., who traced the car westward.

De Veer died in the Coaldale hospital less than three hours after being hit. The car, it is said, continued without stopping. Handicapped by ill health, the youth was unable to move fast enough from the path of the fast travelling auto which approached from behind, heading towards Coaldale. His brother was able to leap aside.

Ray Renfrow, of Coaldale, the man arrested, has been charged with manslaughter, "in that he did on November 25th slay and kill Henry De Veer." He has been released on bail of $6,000.

The marriage of Miss Staffie Rypien to Mr. Edward Yagos was solemnized by Rev. Father Dunbar at the Holy Ghost church, Coleman, on November 14th. The young couple have taken up residence in Coleman.

Frank Galvon was successful in landing a three-year-old bear a short distance south of Blairmore on Monday. When Frank first sighted Mr. Bruin, he took a shot at him with a single-shot .22 rifle. The bullet pierced Bruin's nose and stopped in the tongue. Bruin turned and walked away, probably disgusted with Frank's work. Frank came back to Blairmore and returned with a more powerful rifle and landed his trophy but a few yards from where he had first seen him.

Hundreds of citizens, including many relatives of the boys of the Kimberley Dynamiters, Canadian senior hockey champions and holders of the Allan Cup, gathered at the local depot on Sunday afternoon to bid the lads "bon voyage" on their trip to England and tour of Europe. The lads were enroute to Calgary, where they played an all-star team exhibition on Monday evening, which resulted in a 4-4 tie. Continuing on their trip eastward on Tuesday, they will play 6 or 7 games with eastern teams before sailing on the 4th or 6th of December. Two former local boys were with them, "Puffy" Kemp and Eric Hornquist. Hornquist, however, journeyed only to Calgary, and returned to Kimberley.

whose stay had been less than 10 years be available for deportation, and that no person should be naturalized who supported a family in some other country.

Other resolutions included: Request for legislation making it compulsory for land owners to permit municipal authorities to erect snow fences on their property where advisable; request for direct dealing with councils on the part of the government in respect to road work grants; unanimous agreement that the Dominion government should immediately assume full cost of unemployment relief in municipal areas; request for restoration of social service tax commissions to five per cent; that the Mothers' Allowance Act be amended to make necessary one year's self-supporting residence in the immediate two preceding years in the district bearing the cost; provincial care for cancer patients along lines of tubercular care; governmental responsibility for care of families whose providers have been sent to jail; reduction or cancellation of outstanding accounts at the date of passage of legislation providing free treatment of patients at the Alberta Sanatorium; and amendment to the Land Titles Act so that no transfers of land could be made until municipal obligations were discharged.

"A LAYMAN LOOKS AT THE CHURCH"

Dear Friends:
Next Sunday evening, November 29th, is to be "Laymen's Night." Laymen will have charge of the service, and the guest-speaker will be Mr. E. R. J. Forster, of Lethbridge, who was a lay delegate to the General Council. The West Canadian Collieries Band will be in attendance and will not only play special selections, but will accompany the singing of familiar hymns. You are cordially invited to attend this service.

Sincerely yours,

A. E. Larke, Minister.

DEATH AT NATIONAL BAND FESTIVAL

The following is copied from an Old Country paper, and may be of interest locally:

"Death cast a shadow over the National Band Festival at the Crystal Palace. A crowd of thousands of people were listening in the grounds to the playing of various bands when one of the conductors was seized with fatal illness while wielding his baton. A poignant feature was that his wife and two sons were present when the tragedy occurred.

The contest interrupted so distressingly was for the Junior Shield B. The bandstand was occupied by the Rivington and Allington public band, which was in the middle of performing the test piece, a selection "Gems of Tchaikovsky." Suddenly the conductor, Mr. J. H. Brooks, aged about 51, was seen to fall. The band immediately stopped playing. Mr. Brooks was helped out of the bandstand in a state of collapse. An ambulance was called, but a doctor who examined him found him already dead.

Mrs. Brooks was actually listening to her husband's band when she saw him stagger and fall at the conductor's desk. The news of his death was not broken to her until half an hour later.

One of Mr. Brooks' sons was playing in the band as second cornet when the tragedy occurred. Mr. Brooks had been our conductor for six months, and it was the first time that the band had taken part in the festival, stated one of the members. He had brought the band to such a pitch that we greatly fancied our chance in the contest. He had been a bandsman for 30 years, and was one of the best known soprano cornetists in the brass band movement. A native of Old Hill, Staffordshire, he worked as a steel moulder. This was the first time since the festival was founded 36 years ago that it has been marred by tragedy. The record number of over 200 bands took part in the seven different events of the festival. The insured value of their instruments was estimated at $130,000.

The average wage for mechanics is about 65 cents an hour.

The Prospect Of War

It is not for the tragic potentialities involved, the conflicting reports on the kaleidoscopic European situation and the daily prognostications of authorities, and others without authority, as to the eventual outcome of international misunderstandings and disputes, would be entertaining and amusing.

Unfortunately so much is at stake for the whole world and the possible consequences of the ever-shifting misunderstandings among the European nations are so fraught with risk that one cannot afford, even at this distance, to treat the subject with levity, or even to contemplate conditions overseas with complacency.

Both visitors to this continent from European countries and Canadians and Americans who have returned home from a visit on the other side of the Atlantic, appear to be quite ready to voice freely their opinions on the causes and trends of international difficulties and even to predict the outcome. Many go even further and venture to assert with confidence the approximate time when these quarrels are to culminate in open conflict and general conflagration.

The opinions which these people convey might at least be informative and their prophecies might have some value, if it were not for the fact that no two of them agree, and readers and listeners who are sufficiently interested to absorb everything that is printed or spoken on the subject, must be befuddled in their efforts to straighten out the tangles of conflicting impressions left on their minds.

With or without data to support their theories, these prophets announce that there will be no general European war, that there will be a war some time, that there will be a war within six months, that there is no possibility of an outbreak within the next year but that it is inevitable within the next eighteen months. Some of these prophecies are couched in commanding and authoritative terms with a degree of positiveness that brooks no hedging. Others are conditioned by "ifs", "unless", "perhaps" and "most probably".

Further than that, many of those who are sponsoring an outbreak in the comparatively near future are quite ready to do, and announce what the line-up will be, and why, and who is going to start the trouble that everyone shudders to contemplate. Here again there is so much conflict of opinion that even if the student is prepared to accept the dictum that there will be a war, he is nonplussed when it comes to an effort to diagnose the cause, or to group the opposing nations.

That there is a conflict of opinion on this absorbing topic is not surprising when one considers that the social, political and economic affairs of the majority of the nations on the other side of the water are in a state of flux, and that national viewpoints are changing with such rapidity that it is not only difficult to follow them at long range, but this difficulty is accentuated by the almost impossibility of sifting out facts from propaganda.

However, from this welter of conflicting opinion and mass of tinged information a few truths have emerged. One of these is that most of the talk about a European war is being freely ventilated on this side of the Atlantic while very little is being said or published on the subject in the European countries themselves.

It cannot be gainsaid, however, that if the peoples of Europe are not taking very much about or predicting war they are at least making very active preparations for it, if it should come. Practically every nation from the smallest to the largest is strengthening its defences and is reinforcing all branches of its military services. None of them proposes to be caught napping.

And back of all this activity lies the germ which has caused the fever and which can be variously labelled—suspicion, mistrust, fear—precisely the same germ which has done so much to retard economic recovery from the general world depression.

For all close observers must have come to the conclusion that every country in Europe is afraid of its neighbors. Each is afraid that the others may start something which cannot be stopped and that the innocent may be drawn into the maelstrom that is likely to ensue. Each is suspicious of the actions of the others and each mistrusts the others' motives.

There is also reason to believe that the rank and file of the common people of most, if not all, the countries across the ocean are not anxious for war, but, on the contrary do not want it and would be prepared to go a long way to avoid it. Hence, we have the incongruous spectacle of peoples who would like to devote their energies to commercial progress and who dislike war bending their efforts to the perfection of costly and efficient machinery of destruction, because of fear.

Until this attitude of distrust, suspicion and fear can be dissipated there can be little hope of the European situation improving and this is a task which might well be undertaken by a remodelled and rejuvenated League of Nations.

It is not unreasonable to suppose that a League of Nations with modified covenants whose chief function would be to bring the nations closer together in frank mutual discussions of their problems around a table might achieve more than a League bulwarked by covenants which recent history has shown cannot be enforced. It is only when people get together in frank discussion that they lose instinctive distrust of one another.

Recovery In Canada

Report Says United States Lags Behind In This Respect

American businessmen were advised by Colonel L. F. Ayres, business statistician and vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Company, to compare United States recovery with that of Canada.

In the four years since 1932, he said in the bank's business bulletin, "Canada has regained 97 per cent. of the depression losses, while this country has regained 70 per cent. of them."

The United States, he said, is in a recovery movement "which promises to continue for many months to come. The chief significance the recent elections have for business is that they show that the American people firmly desire to have their government actively participate in their economic problems."

After discussing this factor at some length Col. Ayres concluded: "We should be asking ourselves how it is that Canadian business has been able to accomplish an almost complete recovery, while to do it in the main by old-fashioned, undramatic methods of self-reliance and self-initiative."

Considering New Coin

To Replace England's Threepenny Piece Which Is Unpopular

A nickel coin, valued threepence, may be introduced into the new Edward VIII. coinage. It is being considered by the Bank of England and the Royal Mint. The change, it is taken place, will bring Great Britain into line with most other countries and would mean a big reduction in the number of coppers in circulation. The present threepenny piece is unpopular. The new nickel would be about the same size as a sixpenny piece.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should be the first to wake up in the morning. It is the liver that sends bile into your bowels daily. If the liver is weak, your bowels are sluggish. It is just as easy to wake up your liver as it is to wake up your stomach. You get up in the morning, you feel the liver is weak, and you feel your bowels are sluggish. You feel the liver is weak, and you feel your bowels are sluggish. You feel the liver is weak, and you feel your bowels are sluggish.

Long-Lost Textile Discovered

Thread Known As Biasus Yields Fabric Similar To Wool

A textile fibre dating back to biblical times, whose manufacturing secret had been lost through the ages has been rediscovered by an Italian school teacher.

The ancient thread, known as "biasus" is extracted from a tiny shellfish, the "Pinnu-Nobilis." According to Miss Rita Del Bene, the discoverer, biasus yields a fabric similar to wool by means of a simple chemical process.

The ancients, however, wore a silk-like fabric from the marinemollusk which though more beautiful was not as strong as the "fish wool" produced by the school teacher.

To Mark Coronation

Memorial To Be Erected In Capital Of Malay States

What is claimed to be the empire's first memorial to mark the coronation is being erected in the market place at Kuala Lumpur, capital of the Federated Malay States.

It takes the form of an ornamental tower 30 feet high and 11 feet wide, and surmounts an electrical substation. At the summit of the tower will be a four-faced electric clock.

Under the clock will be a bronze plate with an inscription commemorating the crowning of King Edward VIII.

Entitled To Place

The Bishop of Birmingham thinks that General Evangelical Booth, of the Salvation Army, should be included among the church dignitaries at the Coronation. It seems to be quite a reasonable proposition for the head of an organization which reaches and helps the masses to a greater extent than any other agency.

The most plausible reason for the numerous stones carried in the pilgrim's stomach is that, since he eats enormous amounts of fish, he needs assistance in grinding and digesting his meals.

Iron the Easy Way

Member of National Employment Commission Speaks Of Difficulty In Obtaining Work

The unemployed woman is a "hard citizen to work into employment," because women are a less mobile group than men, Mrs. T. W. Sutherland, of Wells, B.C., and Ottawa, member of the National Employment Commission told a luncheon gathering at Montreal.

Mrs. Sutherland urged her listeners to communicate to the commission any ladies they might have for providing work for unemployed women.

While no official figures for the unemployed women who are not on relief are available, Mrs. Sutherland said relief figures show: Heads of families (widows, deserted wives and others with dependents) 14,250; employable dependents, 30,884; single women, 5,263. These figures are exclusive of farm women. Fifty-two per cent. of the unemployed women are between 20 and 30 years old, Mrs. Sutherland said.

"I would like to train girls for situations in their own homes," she declared, stressing the need of "professionalizing" housework. "I would like to see training schools in housework all over Canada."

Industries such as forestry required strong young men, she said, not the type of people who had been on relief four, five, six years or more. "I don't mean to say persons on relief are practically unemployable," she declared. "They are not. But many will have to receive a measure of training before they can get re-employment. We hope that through the efforts of the commission and industry they will find employment."

Abolished in One State

Untouchables in the native state of Travancore, in southern India, rejoiced at the abolition of the age-old discrimination against their caste which prevented them from worshipping in state temples.

The proclamation decreed: "Henceforth there shall be no restriction placed on any Hindu by birth or religion from entering or worshipping at temples controlled by the Travancore government."

The prohibition against worshipping in the temple with the higher caste is one of the worst indignities suffered by the depressed Hindu castes, and has engaged the efforts of Indian reformers for many years. The cause of the untouchables was championed by Gandhi.

Travancore has a population of about 5,000,000. It is hoped the Maharaja's decree will have a wide influence in India and especially in neighboring Ceylon and the nearby large state of Mysore.

The Hon. Sir C. P. Ramaswami Aiyar, a noted Indian political leader, said the young Maharaja's emancipation of the untouchables "marks a unique occasion in the history of India, especially in Hindunism."

Old Ceremony Observed

London's Lord Mayor Elect Expects To Wear White Chief Justice

Traditional ceremony indicated the King's approval of the election of Sir George Broadbent as lord mayor-elect of the city of London, the ceremony taking place in the Prince's Chamber of the House of Lords. The King's approval was conveyed to Sir George and city dignitaries and to judges presented by the lord chief justice, Lord Hewart.

Two attendants in knee-breeches brought in two great silver goblets, which were attached aprons of lilies of the valley on either side of the lips. From them hung long festoons of white silk. One was presented to Lord Hewart and the second to Sir George. The lord chief justice took a step forward and raised his goblet. "To the lord mayor-elect."

The cups were ceremoniously exchanged, and Sir George, in his turn, took a pace forward and drank. "To the lord chief justice of England." Afterwards the goblets were passed round and everyone drank to the new lord mayor.

German Officer Buried

Canadian Soldiers Form Guard Of Honor At Ceremony In British Columbia

A former German officer and holder of his country's highest wartime award, the Iron Cross, found his last resting place Armistice Day. Lieut. Kurt Roedel of the Imperial German Army during the Great War was buried in the hillside cemetery at Quemes, B.C., northern interior British Columbia mining town.

Men who held the British trenches opposite Roedelburg in 1918 formed a guard of honor.

At the graveside a wreath which three hours earlier had been laid at the foot of the cenotaph was placed on the coffin by Mrs. Lily McDann, whose husband was killed in Flanders.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL INSIST ON FREEDOM OF SEAS

London.—Great Britain prepared to ensure freedom of passage for her ships in Spanish waters while Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons he considered there were other governments more blameless than those of Italy and Germany for violations of the hands-off-Spain pact.

Aroused by opposition jibes, Eden said: "As far as non-intervention is concerned I can say categorically that I think there are other governments more to blame than those of Italy and Germany."

His statement, which some members took to be a veiled threat at Russia, threw the house into an uproar. Cheers from the government benches mingled with cries of "Shame!" "Shame!" from the Labor M.P.'s.

Eden ignored subsequent heckling, and avoided further definition of the "other governments."

The three questions which occupied most of the parliamentary debate were the status of British shipping in the Mediterranean in the face of General Francisco Franco's reported warning of a blockade; the future of the non-intervention committee; and possible joint action by Britain and France to maintain freedom of the seas.

Officially the British government announced it had not received details of the reported Spanish insurgent blockade of ports, but informed sources expected the government to issue a warning that force would be used, if necessary, to protect British merchantmen.

Canadian Warships

Two Destroyers, The Cygnet and Crescent, To Come To Canada

London.—The admiralty announced that the two destroyers purchased by the Canadian government, are the Cygnet and the Crescent. Manned by Canadian crews, they are expected to leave England early in 1937.

Both were of the building program of 1929. They were built by Vickers-Armstrong, launched in September, 1931, and completed in April of the following year. They have a displacement of 1,375 tons, a complement of 145 and carry four 4.7-inch guns, one three-inch and seven smaller guns, and eight 21-inch torpedo tubes.

The new destroyers will replace the Champlain and Vancouver, borrowed from the admiralty in 1928 and since maintained by the Royal Canadian Navy, which have become obsolete. The ships are almost identical, in size and equipment, with the Canadian destroyers Saguenay and Skeena, which were completed in 1931.

British Air Force Growing

Has Already Made Good Start Towards Its Objective

London.—Hundred squadrons of the Royal Air Force now total 80 with 992 first line aeroplanes, according to the latest figures available.

This shows a marked increase in strength since May, 1935, when there were 63 squadrons with 550 first line machines. Air Ministry officials said the figures showed the air force had made a good start towards its objective of 129 home squadrons with 1,750 first line machines.

The air ministry's expansion plan also calls for erection of 90 new aerodromes, of which 39 already are in course of construction. The majority of the aerodromes are situated in the south and southeast part of England.

Tragedy Of South Wales

King Edward Visits Miners and Talks With Unemployed

Merthyr Tydfil, Wales.—The King saw the grim tragedy of South Wales for himself.

For seven hours, with but brief stops, he toured those desolate valleys of unemployment which, like the fingers of a hand, drop down to the sea. He talked with men unemployed for years, with men who found new hope in land settlement, even in voluntary scheme which yield only food coupons.

And despite long-drawn poverty, south Wales gave the king a splendid welcome. At Pontypridd, which lies at the entrance to the Rhondda valley, great crowds broke the police cordons. People gathered about the royal car. Merthyr Tydfil, where 75 per cent. of the adult population is unemployed, saw amazing scenes. Tens of thousands of men, women and children lined the route, cheering as the king drove slowly by. Just outside Aberdare an old woman stood, draped from head to foot in a Union Jack.

For ex-service men the king had a special word of greeting. He talked to them of service in France. At Merthyr Tydfil he stopped to chat with three "old contemplatives," wearing Mons stars.

And the king did his job thoroughly. Hundreds of men stood at the Merthyr Tydfil labor exchange making reports and collecting unemployment pay. The king stepped behind the counter.

"That's what's wanted, your Majesty," one man shouted. The king asked first one man, then another, how long they had been without jobs. Five, nine, 10, 11 years, came the replies. "Terrible," said the king to the man with the 11-year record.

His Majesty specially asked to see Dowlais, the blackest spot in Wales. There almost every family is on relief. The king walked amongst the ruins of great industries. All around, standing on broken walls and heaps of broken bricks, men who once filled the works with the clamor of their industry sang their welcome to the king who had come to see for himself what was wrong in his Welsh domain.

Rescued From Ice Floe

Fifty Fishermen Saved From Death In Lake Manitoba

Winnipeg.—Cut off from shore and in danger of perishing from drifting and breaking ice floe, 50 fishermen were rescued by settlers along the southeastern tip of Lake Manitoba.

Plight of the stranded party was reported from Claudioboy Bay, 100 miles northwest of here. A seaplane was rushed to the area and settlers along the lake shore put out in fish boats and canoes to their rescue. There were no casualties.

First indication they were castaways and in danger came to the fishermen when they observed an aeroplane circling overhead, they said. The men were fishing through holes in the ice between one to six miles off shore and were unaware of their predicament.

Their plight was observed by shore residents who reported the break-up of the ice-floe and its northward drift to A. C. Cunningham, Manitoba director of fisheries at Winnipeg. Meanwhile police along the shore put out in boats and canoes to effect the rescue.

Two horses were brought back through the freezing water. The animals were given a stiff rubdown after their chilly swim to shore and appeared to suffer no ill effects from the immersion. Property loss was heavy and consisted of hundreds of nets, a large quantity of fish and two automobiles.

The ice field was estimated to be 15 miles long and approximately four miles wide and extended off-shore between Delta and Claudioboy. The break first occurred at Delta, south of the fishermen scattered in groups across the floe.

Second Woman Minister

Toronto.—Miss Reba Harn, B.A. of Algoma presbytery, is the second woman to be taken into the United Church as a candidate for the ministry. Acceptance of her candidacy was announced to Toronto centre presbytery by Dr. W. G. Wallace. First woman ordained was Miss Lydia Gruchy, of Moose Jaw.

Battle Against Communism

Italy Observes Day Of Ignominy And Infamy

Rome.—Italy observed a day of "ignominy and infamy," the first anniversary of the imposition of sanctions, while its leaders reviewed the country's relations with the rest of Europe.

The Fascist grand council will meet for the first time this fall after commemoration of the anniversary. Among the subjects well-informed circles expected this supreme policy-making body to consider were:

The battle against Communism, with particular reference to the situation in Spain; the state of Italy's military preparedness; Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano's negotiations with Germany, Austria and Hungary, especially concerning central Europe; relations with Great Britain, and projects for the economic development of Ethiopia.

Commodore Of Fleet

Capt. Peel To Succeed Sir Edgar Britten Of Cunard Line

London.—The Cunard-White Star Line has announced the appointment of Capt. R. V. Peel as commodore of their fleet, succeeding Sir Edgar Britten as commander of the Queen Mary. Sir Edgar died three weeks ago. Capt. Peel took over command of the Queen Mary on short notice on Oct. 28 when Sir Edgar collapsed and died a short time before the liner was due to sail for Southampton. The new commodore was in line to succeed Sir Edgar, who was to have retired next April.

PLAN OF ASSISTED MIGRATION MAY OPERATE SOON

London.—Prediction that assisted migration to other parts of the empire will be under way again soon is contained in an interim report, issued by the Overseas Settlement Board.

The board was appointed last February to consider and advise the government upon specific proposals for empire migration schemes.

It says that, a preliminary view of the situation encourages the board to think that improvement in economic conditions overseas and evidence that the idea of empire migration is being viewed with growing favor in the dominions point to the probability that certain overseas governments may be prepared to co-operate in the scheme for a gradual revival of assisted migration in the reasonably near future.

The Empire Settlement Act of 1922 is due to expire in May, 1937. The board expresses the opinion that legislation should be enacted as soon as possible to empower the government to co-operate in agreed schemes for empire settlement.

The board states that the United Kingdom government should not contribute more than an equitable share of the cost of any agreed scheme. It recommends generally this should be 50 per cent. of the cost and in exceptional circumstances 75 per cent.

The board suggests a limit of £1,500,000 ($7,500,000) in any one financial year to cover expenditure. This would mainly be for assisting the cost of passages, initial allowances for training and to a limited extent development or land settlement schemes.

Broadcasting Survey

Production Officials To Meet At Conference At Ottawa

Ottawa.—Two surveys of the broadcasting situation announced recently by L. W. Brockington, K.C., chairman of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, are now under way. It was made known by the corporation. These surveys relate to broadcast coverage in Canada and to the program service.

Gladstone Murray, general manager of the corporation, has summoned program production officials at the corporation's various production points across Canada to meet at headquarters in Ottawa, Nov. 26, in a conference on program building. The purpose of his conference is to bring about improvement in the corporation's program service.

Calling of this conference is a step in connection with the survey of the broadcasting service and is in line with Mr. Brockington's announcement. The surveys will be carried on in other ways, including personal inspection by the general manager of the situation in various parts of the country later on.

Would Sell Coal To Canada

London.—The South Wales trade recovery and expansion committee seeks to enlist Canada's aid in returning that area to prosperity. The committee urges that with a view to trade recovery in the Welsh mining valleys the Canadian government should be requested to guarantee to take a minimum of 1,000,000 tons of anthracite from Wales annually.

Germany Increasing Navy

Shatter Five-Year Record

Alberta Girls Win In Swine Judging Contest At Toronto

Toronto.—The 16-year-old Ferguson twins—Ethel and Lillian, from Conjurung Creek, Alta., shattered a five-year record, in National Farm Club contests in connection with the Royal Winter Fair, by winning the swine judging competition.

It was the first time in the history of the event girls had won. The Ferguson girls collected 1,006 points of a possible 1,200.

Ontario teams took all the other honors except in poultry judging, which was won by two Manitoba girls, Alice Johnson of Winnipeg Beach, and Marguerite Smith of Arborg. Girls have won in this competition before.

Thirty-one teams, totalling 65 boys and six girls, participated in the competition. Highest possible total in all events was 1,200. The Manitoba poultry team scored 1,028.

Ontario entries won the judging contests in beef and dairy cattle, seed grain and seed potatoes.

The prairie twins are real pioneers. The young Albertans were born on a quarter section, walked half a mile to public school and for the last two years have ridden four miles on horseback to high school. Yet they look like a couple of urban college girls.

Britain And France

While Standing Together Would Be Hard To Destroy, Says Winston Churchill

London.—Great Britain and France together would be "very dangerous to molest, very hard to destroy," Winston Churchill declared at the annual banquet of the United Association of Britain and France.

"France and Great Britain have found the way to freedom by different roads," the statesman said. "Here we are and here we stand. United we stand and separated we fall. While we stand together we will be very dangerous to molest, very hard to destroy."

He added the hope that the two countries would find the United States with them "at the end of the road" leading to peace and prosperity. But, he said, "we must not ask too much of the United States; we must try to do the work ourselves."

Camille Chautemps, French minister without portfolio who was guest of honor at the banquet, said the Spanish non-intervention pact had been sponsored by Britain and France because they "suffered too bitterly in the past from wars of religion to tolerate ideological crusades to-day."

BRITAIN WILL NOT LAG BEHIND IN ARMS PROGRAM

Glasgow.—Britain can complete its rearmament program with as much dispatch as any dictatorship, Prime Minister Baldwin declared in a speech here.

While devoting the greater part of his address to social and economic questions, the prime minister denied an opposition interpretation placed upon his recent assertion in the House of Commons that "democracies are two years behind dictatorships."

The prime minister explained he had only meant it was difficult for a democracy to convince its electorate of the need of something which a dictatorship could decide in a single hour.

There was no reason why a democracy could not follow a chosen path with as much assurance as any country, he said. Emphasizing that the rearmament program was primarily designed to protect Britain and Europe from war, Mr. Baldwin asserted:

"If we were to describe this broad line of policy, we should say that it was peace at almost any price, but at the same time to be ready that no man might attack them."

The two-year lag to which he referred in the house indicated, he explained, the lapse of time that might follow the government's realization of the need to rearm and the date of the program's announcement to the public. He recalled that failure of the disarmament conference and vast programs of other countries had caused Britain to abandon its unilateral disarmament policy.

"There are people who seem to imagine the government at that time should have come forward with an extensive rearmament program," he said. "A direct reversal of policy at that moment could never have been effected. The government of the day had no mandate."

DECLARES NO COUNTRY ANXIOUS TO START A WAR

London.—No country to-day is prepared either to carry on a war or to take responsibility for it, Viscount Halifax, lord privy seal, declared to the house of lords.

"The government are not by any means blind to the danger in the world," said Lord Halifax, "especially those which arise from the clash of sharply conflicting ideologies in Europe."

"But by applying the best judgment His Majesty's government can, by putting the matter on its lowest grounds of self interest, do not believe any country to-day is prepared—much less more anxious—to take responsibility of letting loose war that may spread through Europe and beyond it."

"So far as we are concerned, we mean what we say. We will be friends with all nations and we believe that other nations sincerely desire to establish friendly relations with ourselves. The government do not undertake either the difficulty or the urgency of the task before them and they are applying themselves to it with energy."

The upper chamber's debate on defence and foreign policy concluded with Lord Halifax's speech.

A four-power European defence pact was urged by Lord Rennell, former ambassador to Rome, who said Britain, France, Germany and Italy should stand together to fight "subversive forces," both in Europe and in the Far East.

"Obviously in the major issues, the logic of things as they are makes it imperative that France and ourselves should stand together," said Lord Rennell. "Freedom of the channel is indispensable to both of us, and we could not ourselves regard with any indifference a menace to the security of our nearest neighbor."

King Edward Sends Message

Urges People Of South Wales Not To Lose Heart

London.—In a message to the lord-lieutenant of Glamorganshire and Monmouthshire the king urged the people of the distressed area of South Wales "not to lose heart" and rest assured "their troubles are not forgotten."

The king said he had been greatly touched by the warmth of the welcome which the king wherever he went. His first feeling, he declared, was one of admiration for the spirit in which the people of South Wales were facing the ordeal of prolonged unemployment.

"I am glad to have been encouraged to see 'the fine efforts, both governmental and voluntary, being made to help them until some revival of industrial activity might bring back prosperity.'"

"Gentlemen, I urge them not to lose heart but rest assured their troubles are not forgotten," His Majesty concluded.

Royal Air Force Members

London.—Nearly 11,000 men and boys joined the Royal Air Force in 1935 compared with 2,700 in 1934, says a report. Of 20,000 candidates, 11,000 were found fit for general service. Deaths through injuries in 1935 totalled 128, compared with 58 in 1934. But 51 of the former were due to the earthquake in Quetta, India.

YOUR

By JANE DEE

ACCURACY of measurement plays a very important part in the shopping of Mail Order customers. Few people realize the necessity of measuring EVERY TIME they order. Often they may require a different size to that which fitted them only six months previously.

Perhaps you gained while away on your holidays. Perhaps you lost weight and need a smaller size. If daughter swims every day this summer her shoulders will probably have become broader and therefore she will require a larger size. All these things must be taken into consideration when you shop by mail.

When you sit down to write your order, have the tape measure beside you so that you will be able to measure yourself. Better still, have somebody else measure you. If you have had difficulty securing a garment to fit properly, when you order, kindly send in your full measurements such as width across shoulders, waistband, sleeve length and dress length. Then we will be able to advise you upon the correct size according to your measurements.

A number of local juveniles were being rounded up the early part of the week. It is believed they have been connected with recent minor robberies, etc.

Another burden for the poor Alberta consumer will be assured if Mr. Aberhart undertakes to exact a heavier tax on wholesale distribution of necessary groceries.

The remains of Mrs. Felix Montalbeti, of Bluffton, Alberta, were exhumed last week to be forwarded to Edmonton, in preparation for their removal to Italy, the early home of the deceased. Mrs. Montalbeti's death occurred in Edmonton a few weeks ago.

Rev. Roy Taylor stated in Edmonton that registration for the basic dividend was now complete. My, what a source of satisfaction that must be for the poor penniless individuals in Alberta who have for many months been looking forward to receiving the dividend.

A streak of hard luck: A Michel man, who was a recent purchaser of a car, was obliged to send the machine to Lethbridge for repairs, following the machine being upturned near Michel. On Wednesday of this week, he journeyed to Lethbridge to drive the auto back, and, on the way west was hit by a horse wagon, necessitating the machine again entering hospital. It's a case of "It seldom rains but it pours."

The forest fire south of Blairmore practically burned itself out over the week end. A number of fire-fighters, under direction of Ranger Boulton, were kept on the ground for several days, including Sunday. No very great damage was done by this fire, as most of the country burned bore mostly scrub brush and young pine. Had the fire spread a few miles further south, however, it would have got beyond control in heavy timber.

The Hillcrest Junior Baseball Club will hold their second annual New Year dance in the Hillcrest Union hall on the night of Friday, January the 1st, 1937. Hillcrest Juniors are provincial champions, and to honor them, the attendance is sure to be the largest in Hillcrest's history. Come out and give the boys a real boost. There will be confetti, streamers and novelty dances, and the Arcadians will furnish up-to-the-minute music.

At a recent central meeting called to organize the Crow's Nest Pass Social Credit zone assembly, Ernest Rhys, of Hillcrest, and Albert E. Albertans hold over three hundred million dollars of life insurance.

Dr. A. H. Baker, of Keith Sanitarium, Calgary, was a visitor to Lethbridge this week.

No price-cutter has ever succeeded in cutting his competitor's throat without cutting his own at the same time.

It's getting close to Christmas. Don't leave your Christmas Greeting Cards till the last minute rush. The Enterprise has a wonderful assortment at lowest possible prices.

See that your name and business are represented in our Annual Christmas Number, to appear on December the 18th—the finest souvenir you could possibly send to your relatives or friends.

It is customary that when one is called upon to give evidence, they are sworn to give "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." Only a few days ago in Ontario a newspaper man about to give evidence was considered so extremely truthful that the court officials refused to swear him. Well, perhaps that guy should come to Alberta and get educated.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

The grand variety concert held in the L.O.O.F. hall on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Bellevue and District Horticultural Society, was a huge success, and it is thought a neat sum will be realized. Irene Ward was a week end visitor to Calgary.

The many friends of Norman Stewart are sorry to hear of his transfer to Innisfail. Norman has worked in the Royal Bank here for the past four or five years, and in that time has made many friends who, although they regret to see him leave, wish him every success in his new field. Norman is being replaced by Mr. Miller, of Cardston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hill, accompanied by George and Fred Hill, returned Monday night from Vancouver.

Rev. R. and Mrs. Upton entertained the members of the Young People's Society on Monday evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent in games and a sing-song. Two of the girls helped Mrs. Upton in the serving of a dainty lunch.

The annual bazaar held in the gymnasium on Wednesday afternoon by the Ladies' Aid of the United church was very successful. The ladies wish to thank all those who helped in any way towards making the bazaar such a success.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Norman Horning and Gordon Swart have returned with a deer each, the result of a few days hunting in the mountains.

John Veregin, who is a patient in St. Vincent's hospital at Pincher Creek, underwent an appendix operation. Although a serious case, he is reported doing well.

The fine weather we have been enjoying for the past several weeks still continues.

The Cowley Girls Club held a very successful dance on Friday night last. A large crowd was present and a good time reported.

The prizes at the community whist drive, held on Wednesday evening, were won by: Miss Shoemaker and Miss Julia Lemire, ladies' first and second; and Bill Potapoff and Willie Musgreave, gent's first and second. A dance followed the drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Peel, of Blairmore, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Askew.

A well attended Social Credit dance was held in the Lundbreck community hall on Friday night last.

The community was shocked on Wednesday morning of this week to hear of the sudden death of Lou Lemire. Mr. Lemire had apparently recovered from a serious illness, was able to be around and was his own jovial self again. A host of friends join in sympathy for the bereaved ones.

Mary had a little watch.
She swallowed it one day,
And now she's taking Epsom salts
To pass the time away.

G. Passmore, junior, is down from Cranbrook for a few days.

Rev. Father Sullivan, of Cowley, was a visitor to Blairmore on Tuesday.

J. J. O'Brien, manager of Jaeger Park Lodge, died on November the 15th, following but a few hours illness.

An optimist is a man who has a good time thinking about the good time he would be having if he were having a good time.

Saturday Night remarks: Why should Canada keep out of the thick of things? Let's double our navy and throw the fear of God into somebody.

Free Trial of Vick Products For Better Control of Colds Offered by Local Druggists

Free Packages Contain Trial Size Vicks Vapo-rol and Vicks VapoRub, with Details of Plan that Cut Sickness from Colds in Half in Clinic Tests

In your own home this winter, wouldn't you like to see sickness from colds cut more than half? That was just one of the results averaged on thousands of people in clinic tests of Vicks Vapo-rol and Vicks VapoRub—a practical home guide to greater freedom from colds.

The free trial packages now offered by your druggist introduce you to Vicks Vapo-rol and Vicks VapoRub, and tell before you try them, the results that make it possible: Vicks Vapo-rol and Vicks VapoRub.

To Help Prevent Many Colds

Vicks Vapo-rol is the scientific aid in preventing colds. Vicks Vapo-rol has been used for more than nine years in research, experiments, and tests before perfecting the exclusive Vicks Vapo-rol formula.

Vicks Vapo-rol is specially designed for the nose and upper throat, where 3 out of 4 colds start. The moment you apply it—a few drops up each nostril—Vicks Vapo-rol spreads swiftly through this trouble zone, aiding and gently stimulating Nature's defenses.

Used at that first sneeze, sniffle or any sign of nasal irritation—Vicks Vapo-rol's usual warning that a cold threatens—Vicks Vapo-rol prevents many colds, and to throw off head colds in the first place. And when neglected irritation has led to a stuffed-up nose or a miserable head-cold, Vicks Vapo-rol brings comforting relief. It reduces swollen membranes, clears clogging mucus, makes every breath clear and cool again.

You'll find Vicks Vapo-rol wonderfully easy and pleasant to use, at home and at work.

To Help End a Cold Quicker

When a cold strikes without warning or gets by the end of the best prevention—as some colds always will—Vicks VapoRub helps end it quicker.

You simply massage VapoRub on the throat, chest, and back for three minutes. Almost before you finish rubbing, VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once: (1) it acts directly through the skin like a poultice; (2) its medicated vapors are released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 15 minutes—direct to the irritated passages.

This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation, helps break congestion. While the patient relaxes into comfortable sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working. Often, the worst of the cold is over.

Cough Drops Free, Too
For the throat that is dry and harsh, or irritated by coughing, Vicks Medicated Cough Drops—throat-soothing ingredients of Vicks VapoRub in pleasant candy form—provide quick, convenient relief.

Get Your Free Package Today

Don't forget—your druggist has just a limited supply of free trial packages containing these Vicks products. Write for yours today, before they're all gone.

And be sure to lock in your free package for full details of the Plan for Better Control of Colds—what cut sickness from colds more than half in clinic tests before perfecting the exclusive Vicks Vapo-rol formula. Write for your family may be less—or more—but doesn't this find record make it well worth trying?

Princess Elizabeth Lucky

Stories Told By King Edward Color Geography Lessons

Although Princess Elizabeth is not going to school, there will be a certain reorganization of her home studies. Two tutors will give her regular lessons in the classics and in modern history, a subject that the Duke of York considers all important, especially in the case of a little girl who is now second in succession to the Throne. The King, who is particularly fond of his older niece, is following King George's example by taking a deep personal interest in her studies, says the News of the World. He often adds thrilling color to her geography lessons—a subject which is not one of her favorites—by telling her fascinating stories of his own experiences on his great journeys through the Empire and the world.

Milk As Banquet Beverage

Was Very Popular At Port Arthur Club Dinner

At a joint service club banquet to Hon. C. D. Howe in Port Arthur milk was placed on the tables, a full glass at each place and large pitchers with an extra supply. It was all consumed rapidly, everyone—that is almost everyone, the exceptions being a few who were raised on farms—enthusiastic about it as if it were some strange, costly and rare beverage. Why with its popularity and its availability, its food value, and its low cost, milk is not supplied or demanded more generally remains a mystery—Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

Life Insurance in Canada

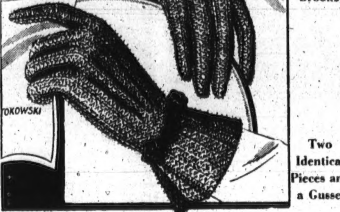

How much more of a stake in life insurance Canadians have than the people of every other country except the United States has just been published. Though the United Kingdom has about four times the Dominion's population, its people carry only about 10 per cent. more insurance than ours. The amount in force in the Dominion is nearly twice as much as in Germany, four times what it is in Australia and five times what it is in France—Edmonton Journal.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS WIPE OUT TUBERCULOSIS

By unremitting efforts in his fight against Tuberculosis, the Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League has succeeded in reducing the death rate from this disease to one-half of what it was fifteen years ago, and by this great achievement, Saskatchewan now has the distinction of having the lowest death rate of any state or province in the world.

Yet, despite the encouraging progress that has been made, Tuberculosis is still one of the most serious disease problems we have to face. Every third death in the age period between 15 and 45 years from acute infectious disease is due to Tuberculosis.

Therefore, there must be no let-up in the fight against Tuberculosis. Every citizen can do his or her part by buying Christmas Seals.

Educational and preventive work are very important factors in this never-ending campaign. The money raised by the sale of Christmas Seals is used exclusively for these purposes and made possible the examination of 54,375 persons in the past eight years. Last year, 14,403 persons were examined.

The work of caring for the 750 patients in the three Sanatoria of the province is met by taxation. Funds for educational and preventive work are provided by voluntary contributions.

Early diagnosis of suspected cases is of vital importance. Clinics are held monthly at seven points in the province, where free examination is available to all. Last year the proportion of early cases admitted to the Sanatoria was 43 per cent. compared with ten per cent. fifteen years ago. The education of the public as to the symptoms and dangers of Tuberculosis has brought about this result.

The majority of cases discovered in the early stages of the disease recover; their stay in the sanatorium is shorter, and the cost to themselves and the taxpayer correspondingly reduced.

People must learn that Tuberculosis in the early stages is not a fatal disease, as pneumonia. In the later stages it is one of the most serious diseases there is. The public must be made intelligently Tuberculosis-conscious. The public must know something about the symptoms.

First, loss of strength, loss of weight, fever and later a cough and other more serious symptoms. Because people know more about the symptoms of Tuberculosis today than they did fifteen years ago, the infection rate among children and young adults has been reduced to one-quarter of what it was then. The fear and apprehension which Tuberculosis once inspired has largely diminished, because people today know that it is not hereditary, and that if discovered and treated in early stages, it is 80 per cent. curable.

Four thousand people are living in Saskatchewan today who have been treated in our Sanatoria, and whose lives have been returned to their usual occupations.

What more convincing argument than this could be advanced for support of the Christmas Seal Sale in order that educational and preventive work may be continued and extended? We can, if we will, make Tuberculosis a comparatively rare disease.

One way in which everyone may play a part at this season of the year is to buy and use Christmas Seals. The money you spend on these seals is used to strengthen the forces which protect you and yours against every real and powerful enemy that buy seals makes you a participant in the campaign, lining you up with the forces of health and happiness against disease and misery.

Italy Makes Denial

Declare Reports That Law Courts Will Be Abolished Is False

Official denial was made that President Mussolini intends to abolish law courts and substitute corporate committees. It was said officially the law courts will not be changed.

Displeasure was expressed in official circles that lawyers in the United States should have interpreted the reported possibility of such a change as indicating freedom of trial was being impaired in Italy.

It was pointed out citizens have and will continue to have rights before the courts equivalent to those of other countries.

Nipigon Map Sheet

Lake Nipigon The Mecca For Anglers From All Over The Continent

The greater part of the Lake Nipigon district of "square-tailed"—red-trout fame, is shown on a new Department of the Interior map which covers the southern part of Lake Nipigon, and includes the Nipigon, Black Sturgeon, and Jackfish River areas, also an extensive network of lakes, rivers, and streams to the west of Lake Nipigon.

The mapped region is part of an undeveloped area and has only the small portion comprised in six townships subdivided into farms. Located north of Port Arthur and Fort William, it is an ideal sportsman's country reached by the Canadian National Railway's line between Port Arthur and Longlac, with Orient Bay as the chief starting point, and by the Canadian Pacific Railway's transcontinental line through Nipigon on Lake Superior. A section of the Trans-Canada Highway is shown on the map as under construction. It skirts the southeastern part of the region and when completed will make this country accessible by automobile. A provincial highway from Port Arthur and Fort William already extends to the village of Nipigon, and to Cameron Falls.

To anglers all over the continent the word "Nipigon" suggests trout for the district holds the world's record, with specimens weighing 12½ pounds, while four-pound to six-pound fish are quite common. Both railway systems award trophies each year for trout caught within Nipigon waters. In Lake Nipigon, and in the Black Sturgeon, Nipigon, and adjacent rivers, small-mouth bass, white-fish, pickerel, and pike are also abundant.

The region is a big game country in which moose and deer are plentiful, but hunting is prohibited within the provincial game preserve to the east of the lake. To tourists other than sportsmen, the area holds many attractions scenically, for at points on Lake Nipigon the shore-line rises to magnificent heights, while the long arms of the lake with its occasional sandy beaches are of interest to the canoeist or motorboat enthusiast. Many of the streams are placid, but others are quite turbulent.

There are deposits of chromite about Chrome Lake near the northern edge of the area shown in the map. Other industries where prospecting or mining operations are in progress include the Garden Lake district west of Lake Nipigon and that area to the east which lies between Lake Nipigon and Longlac.

Lake Nipigon, 65 miles long and 40 miles wide, with numerous islands, some large and some small, is surrounded on three sides by the Nipigon Forest Reserve and on the east side by the Nipigon-Ottawa Game Preserve. It has a shore-line of approximately 600 miles and with its 1,580 square miles is the largest lake wholly within Ontario. It drains into Lake Superior by Nipigon river on which hydro-electric power is developed at Cameron Falls and Alexander Falls.

The Nipigon map may be obtained in the regular map sheet form at 25 cents, a pocket-sized fold edition containing an index to place names on the map may be procured for 35 cents, and copies backed with linen for extensive use are available at 50 cents. Applications should be addressed to the Surveyor General, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or copies may be obtained at many of the leading bookstores in the cities and towns of Ontario.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERHOOD

Golden text: There can be neither bond nor free... for ye all are one man in Christ Jesus. Galatians 3:28.

Lesson: Philomen.

Devotional reading: Ephesians 3:14-21.

Explanation And Comments

The Salvation of the Letter, verses 3-7. Paul writes that Timothy joins him, "a prisoner of Christ Jesus," in sending greetings to Philomen, their beloved fellow-worker, and to Apphia and Archippus, Philomen's wife and son, and to the church that meets in his house. "Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ."

Gratitude for Philomen's Faith and Love and Service, verses 8-12. Philomen was a man of means distinguished by his gifts to charity. He was a prisoner of Christ Jesus, in his love and care of the followers of Christ, as Paul has just written, Paul will expect from him this further proof of his goodness, that he will forgive Onesimus and welcome him kindly on his return.

Paul insisted that in Christ there could not be bond and free; and so he did away, at least between Christians, with the servile relation of property to owner. In the personal contacts of employer and employee, sincere Christians have found it possible to embody the Spirit of Christ in both positions. They have lived together in these relations in mutual respect, confidence and affection. Among us no Christian employer feels with the master in an attitude of deferential servility—that is recognized as both un-Christian and un-Christian (Henry House Coffin).

If, then, you count me as a partner, receive him as you would me. "Imagine Paul arriving at Colosse and knocking at Philomen's door. What rejoicing there would be through the whole household, alike in master and slaves! What delight in all hearts, on all faces! Just such a welcome he now asks for the wandering sheep that has come back to the fold. His request is not only for pardon and forgiveness, but for welcome and service of a brother in the household of faith" (Gosset).

If he has wronged you, or owes you anything, charge it to me. I solemnly promise that I will repay it. And I do not remind you that you owe me your very self—your life in Christ. Yes, brother, let me rejoice in the Lord because of him, refresh my heart in Christ. I write thus to you because I have had faith in you and know that you will do even more than I have requested.

We do not know what was the result of this plea for Onesimus, but we think Philomen was no less than to forgive him, receive him kindly, and send him back laden with gifts to Paul to remain with him and serve him.

Typewriters operated solely by radio impulses have been perfected and will soon be in operation on air lines, according to Daniel C. Roper, U.S. secretary of commerce.

The machines will enable pilots to have up-to-the-minute weather reports and enable passengers to have the latest market and news reviews while in the air.

The new radio typewriters perfected by the air commerce bureau technicians and private manufacturers are capable of 60 words a minute.

The Washington-Nashville airway will be the first line to have the new machines in operation. The government will finance the installation making the machines available only to pilots for weather reports.

Thou Shalt Not Love

— A NOVEL BY —
GEORGIA GRAIG

There came the sound of sibilant gasps from those nearest. The shuffle of feet stopped on the instant. Starr and Michael, too, were stricken as still as though turned to stone, their arms about each other ready to swing into the dance. In the momentary hush it seemed that everyone else stood still, too, listening. But Stephanie Dale was neither hushed nor silent. In a dramatic, bitter moment she was hurling names at Starr. The kind of names of which only a jealous woman can think.

The whole gay party, their dancing feet stopped for the moment, stood aghast. Almost anything went in their mad set—but not scenes like this.

Stephanie was too angry to care. She had a great deal stored up to say and she was saying it all. Michael's face went from dark red to white. There was pleading in his eyes as he said:

"Stephanie, please!"

She stared out at him, then. "I won't keep quiet! What should I? I'm beginning to doubt whether your interest in this 'Play-girl'—she made the name anathema, while her eyes shot venom—"is purely professional, as you insist! How do I know you haven't been her lover, in common with half a dozen other men about town? Probably half the men here this minute! But you can't fault her in my face! If you dance with her, Michael, everything is finished between you and me!"

It was a merciless ultimatum. At Stephanie's savage onslaught Starr felt all the life suddenly dashed from her body. Now, unaccountably, her greatest resentment was for Michael.

"... Though why should she care? He deserved—well, about anything. But surely not this public embarrassment. As she recovered herself slightly she turned to look at Michael.

She saw the battle he was waging with himself. He could not afford to quarrel with the girl he wanted to

PAINS ALL OVER HIS BODY

Kruschen Made Him Feel a New Man

Read the experience of this man who had rheumatism so badly that at times he was prevented from working—

"About 10 months ago," he writes, "I suffered terribly with rheumatism and neuritis. The pains were all over my body and some days I could not even get up from bed to go to work. A friend visited me and suggested that I should try Kruschen Salts. I did so, the result being that the pains seemed to gradually disappear. I have been going to work ever since without a break, thanks to Kruschen Salts, and I feel a new man." A.R.

Rheumatic conditions are frequent byproducts of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are notable for their power in dissolving uric acid. Other ingredients assist Nature to expel the dissolved acid from the system.

marry, to whom it was generally accepted that he was engaged, and yet how many men would have accepted a rebuke like that in public? It was plain he meant to pay no attention to Stephanie or anything she said. He held on to Starr defiantly.

Starr wriggled free from his arms. She drewled cooly:

"I'll save Michael the embarrassment of making a decision by sitting this one out. It's a little warm for dancing, anyway!"

She walked across the floor alone. Toward the long open windows that led to the high-up balcony that looked down over the city. More than one turned to watch her as she moved on in the dreamy waltz, marveling at her courage. This was a new phase in the character of "Play-Girl," and there was a touch of reluctant admiration and sympathy even in the women's eyes.

This balcony at the Mayfair was high up over New York City. The balconies outside its windows looked down so that one could imagine oneself on the crest of a hill, with the lights below twinkling like a sea of stars. Starr looked down on them, but somehow they were all blurred and wavy through a mist that welled to her eyes, in spite of herself.

In the distance was caught, a glimpse of the glory of the wide river, moon-drenched, turning the craft along it into silver boats. But in the light of day they would be dirty hulks, most of them, with no magic of moonlight to touch them. They would not be silver boats, they would be—That was how Starr felt—tarnished.

She stood by the balcony rail, looking down at the lights and at the broad, wide expanse of the black and silver river. Music, muted a little, came from within. The dance was going on as though nothing had happened.

Starr was as surprised to find she was trembling as at the mist that blurred her vision. In spite of her brave front, things like this left their mark. They were bound to. She had not had sufficient experience in life in steeling herself.

She did not know how long she stood there. It made so little difference. Then the figure of a man suddenly appeared, just a dark blur against the wall of the tall building. That would be Lance, of course; he was never very far away. She was surprised that he had not already followed her out.

She moved slightly, glancing from the corner of her eyes. No, not Lance. The figure was too broad and athletic for Lance. Starr's heart gave a queer leap. Michael!

"Starr!"

In the misty darkness the girl's lips twisted. A sibilant little laugh tinkled.

"Be careful, Michael—Hassan. I'm poison ivy!"

His voice came swiftly as he took another eager step nearer.

"I want to apologize for Stephanie, Starr. She had no right to say the things she did."

Starr said dully: "It doesn't matter, does it? She only said what everybody else thinks! If I remember, what you've rather intimidated yourself."

He spoke her name again, and in his tone was a world of hurt.

"Starr!"

"Yes, Michael."

Somewhat it was easier to talk to him when the darkness obscured his arrogant young features. Perhaps it was easier for him, too, not to see the painted mask of "Play-Girl." All he saw was a tragic, white, indistinct smudge that was her face, and a larger white smudge, her dress, backed against the rail. His voice was strained.

"I want to apologize for myself, too, Starr. No man has the right to do to any woman, no matter what his preconceived notions of her, what I did to you. I put you in an impossible position, and then blamed you because you lost your head. It's all my fault, whatever has happened tonight or any other time, is my fault. I didn't realize it until tonight, when I heard Stephanie call you those names, but I knew then, in a terrible moment, Starr, what I had done to you."

A strange tightness caught Starr Ellison's throat. Her barriers were down. She could have matched the supercilious Michael with mocking word for mocking word; she had no weapons with which to fight this new, humble Michael.

He had come closer now, was reaching for her hands with the big strong ones she knew so well. He was trying to look nearer into her face and the pools of her eyes that were hidden in the night blackness. He said impetuously:

"I've been a mad fool, Starr! I began by being attracted that day I saw you on the street, pouring out your passionate little heart in just a few words that meant volumes to me. I thought I understood, then. And when I saw you, for the third time in one day, it looked as if Fate was pointing you out to me, as the girl I had been looking for who could be molded like clay to my own hands, for my own not-too-worthy purpose, making you do exactly what I wanted you to do—for sweet publicity's sake. We get so hardened in this game, as well as in the newspaper game. You know they say that a man may betray his own grandmother for the sake of a 'story.' That was all I had in mind—a 'story'—one that should be sensational enough to help me line my own foul pockets. I thought I had you sized up—I was terribly wrong.

Then you got beyond my control, with a girl of your mentality. You were nobody's little dumbbell chorus girl. Which I should have known in the first place. I was so fatally pleased with myself that I was even congratulating myself that I had found a woman with brains as well as beauty..."

He paused, and in that momentary pause the silence was sibilant, the music from inside a mere softly purring obligato. His voice had a choke, as he went on.

Conquest Of The North

In Canada, We Are Unlocking The Treasure Houses Of Nature

The Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir, paid a high tribute to the mining industry of Canada at a dinner at the Chateau Laurier celebrating the production of the first ounce of refined gold in Canada, valued at $500,000. Speaking of the slow and patient development of the mining by geological observations of the officers of the mines branch and research on metallurgical problems in government laboratories, among other things, Lord Tweedsmuir said:

"On the 14th of July in the year 1789, the Bastille fell in Paris and with its fall began the French revolution. On the same day, Alexander Mackenzie, the explorer, set up a post on Whale Island, off the Arctic coast. That day in the old world inaugurated several decades of war and a carnival of windy theories of which we still feel the blast. Here in Canada, on the other hand, was inaugurated the slow and patient conquest of the north.

"In recent years in the old world we have seen a similar epoch of confusion and unsettlement, the strife of rival dogmas and the eternal rumor of war. In Canada these same years have witnessed a very different kind of movement, the steady patient conquest of the wilds, the practical business of unlocking the treasure house of nature. Which of the two fates is the happier? We have good cause to be grateful for our good fortune. It has kept us out of the melee into which so much of the world has been flung, and permitted us to continue our fruitful and peaceful toil."

The largest globe in the world is being made for next year's Paris exposition. It will show the earth's seas and continents on an exact scale of one-to-1,000,000 and will be lighted by an artificial sun.

When King Edward makes coronation drives to outer parts of central London around Coronation day, special seats will be allocated to children.
